Walkout Was Surprise to the Student Body

Silence in the corridors. A busy hum in the classrooms. Students in the library preparing their lessons for the day. An October sun, was shining through a cloudless sky on an apparently uneventful day. Such were conditions at 8:25 Monday morning.

At 8:30, the halls were filled with a laughing, shouting throng. The word, "Walkout" was on a hundred lips and a scattering demand for tickets was in evidence.

Why the sudden change? Just before half-past eight, the piercing tones of a bugle sounded through the building announcing the long-looked-for Walkout Day. For almost a week, since the tickets for the big day were put on sale in the first floor corridor, students had been kept busy speculating as to when the bugle, mentioned on the little blue slips, would blow. Indeed, one class became keyed up to such a state that, on the Thursday preceding the Day, it is said to have mistaken a piano for the bugle and deserted the classroom temporarily.

When it rained on Friday, many had given up in disgust. But at 8:29 Monday morning, October 7, the question mark on the ticket stub was explained. Practically the entire student body crowded into the auditorium to get directions for the day's activities.

From the College building, a yelling, happy S. T. C. student body "hoofed" it to the Missouri Theater where it saw and heard the picture, "Cocacuts."

At 12:30, more than three hundred students and faculty members gathered at the College Park where, in a short time, lunch was served. The "feed" consisted of apples, weiners, baked beans, coffee, and ice cream.

Three forms of entertainment furnished amusement for the students in addition to the picture show. They were (1) the program furnished either by or at the expense of freshmen and fraternity pledges; (2) a dance; (3) a repetition of the first form of entertainment.

At the theater, pledges of the Sigma Sigma and Alpha Sigma Alpha Sororities, and of the Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity furnished a rather impromptu program of songs, dances, and stunts.

After the dinner at the park, a dance was given in the College Library. Ted Broedlove's orchestra furnished the music.

To a committee of six seniors belongs the credit for the planning of the day's program and the work of keeping the date secret. Members of the committee were Georgia Ellen Trusty, Gertrude Wray, Cecil Young, Allen Doak, Floyd Houghton, and Clarence Worley.

Besides the committee, a number of faculty members, the Growlers, and several other individuals co-operated to make the day a success.

The blue tickets were sold the students of the College High School as well as to College students. Orange tickets were presented to faculty members.

With each year's Walkout, the term seems to become more and more synonymous with surprise and suspense, and a real day of fun and pleasure for the students and faculty.

French Classes Read Le Petit Journal

The members of the two divisions of Miss Dow's French 11a class have subscribed for Le Petit Journal for the year. The Journal is a bi-monthly publication, published by the Doubleday Doran Company, of Garden City, New York. It is issued during the months, October to May, inclusive.

Though this paper is published in the United States, it is a compilation of articles from French newspapers and is adapted to the reading ability of beginning French students. There are seventy students reading this paper.

A. J. Cooper Writes to President Lamkin

President Lamkin recently received a letter from Mr. J. A. Cooper, formerly an instructor in the College. Mr. Cooper has for some time been President of Sioux Falls College of Sioux Falls, South Dakota and will be remembered by many people in Maryville for his work here.

The letter is as follows:

Dear President Lamkin:

In reply to your note I wish to say that I am leaving the college to go on the staff of the Northern Baptist Convention. My new headquarters will be at home, The Newborn Hotel, 525 East Armour, Kansas City, Missouri, and I am expecting to leave today to spend a few days there.

Before very long I hope to drop in to Maryville, and I shall be anxious to see you. I trust that things are going fine at the College. Please give everybody my very best regards.

Dramatics Club Will Present Mystery Play

Tryouts are Being Held Each Evening for the Cast of "The Thirteenth Chair," a Play by Bayard Veiller.

The Dramatics Club is breaking two precedents this year. For the last several years the club has presented its major play in the spring. This year the major entertainment, a three-act play, will be given on November 15.

The second departure from custom is in the type of play presented. Heretofore the play has been a farce comedy or phantasy. This year it is to be a mystery play; one of that kind which makes the audience clasp its hands so tight they hurt, so great is the suspense.

The play selected is "The Thirteenth Chair" by Bayard Veiller, who wrote "The Trial of Mary Dugan," the film version of which many students have, no doubt, seen.

The cast for "The Thirteenth Chair" is unusually large, requiring seventeen members. All of the roles are good and offer an opportunity for revealing dramatic talent.

Tryouts for the cast were held on Tuesday night, October 8, at 8:00 p. m. and were continued on Wednesday night. Arrangements were made to take a photograph of all those trying for parts.

The first meeting of the Dramatics Club, Thursday, October 3, was interesting. Much enthusiasm seemed to be aroused among the new members.

Mr. Miller outlined briefly the things he hoped the club would accomplish during the year. He explained the purpose of the Dramatics Council. The duty of the council is to suggest plans for the acceptance or refusal of the club, thus eliminating tiresome business routine and giving more time to actual creative work.

Mary Lou Appleman was elected secretary of the organization and Wilbur Pettigrew was elected treasurer. Forty-two members were present for the election of officers.

"The Florist's Shop," a one-act play under the supervision of Cleola Dawson was given by an able cast. Carl LeRoy Fisher, as Slovisky, was a typical Jew. Martha Pfeiffer as Miss Wells, the long-engaged spinster, played her part well. Cleola Dawson, the highly emotional office girl, elicited the sympathy of the audience when she was "fired" for letting her romantic fancies rule her head. Clinton Morris, who played the part of "Henry," a languid office boy, and Richard Nelson, as Mr. Jackson, maintained the high quality of the acting.

During the last few minutes, the club was turned into a social gathering when a "Toll-tale" was conducted by Ruth Florea. Each person was expected to contribute some information about at least one member; their acting ability, musical accomplishments, and general adaptability were discussed.

The next meeting of the club will be Thursday, October 17, at 11:00 when Clinton Morris will be program chairman.

Marjorie Cole and Lois McCrary visited at their homes in Shenandoah Saturday and Sunday.

College Will Welcome Dad's of Students

Faculty and Students are Preparing to Make Fathers Have a Pleasant Time at S. T. C.

The faculty-student committee which has charge of Dad's Day met Tuesday afternoon, October 8, to make final arrangements for the Dads' Day activities which are being planned for Friday, October 18.

Invitations from President Lamkin have already been sent to the dads of the College students, and this week a special announcement is being mailed out by O. Myking Mehus, the chairman of Dads' Day committee.

Mr. Mehus stressed the fact that it is absolutely necessary for the committee to know by Wednesday of next week how many fathers are coming in order that necessary arrangements may be made for the banquet. Two hundred dads and students can be accommodated in Residence Hall. It is hoped that a larger number than this will come. If the Residence Hall cannot accommodate all the guests, an overflow banquet will be held in one of the downtown churches.

The students are sending out letters this week to their dads inviting them to come. A large number of students have already been assured that their dads are coming and the remainder will know definitely by next Wednesday.

Dr. J. W. Hake, chairman of the faculty council, will act as toastmaster at the Dads' Day banquet. Short talks will be given by a dad and by a representative of the student body.

The dads will register from ten to twelve o'clock in the forenoon at Social Hall. An opportunity will be given the dads to meet the faculty members and to inspect the buildings and campus. The banquet is scheduled for 12:30, and the Springfield-Maryville football game for 2:30 p. m.

The following students are working with the faculty committee on Dads' Day:

Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority: Georgia Ellen Trusty and Grace Gallatin. Student Council: Gordon Trotter, Mildred Sandison, Martha Herridge, Cecil Young, and Lawrence Schaffer.

Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority: Evelyn Evans and Imogene Wolff.

Y. M. C. A.: Erman Barrett, Thomas Lawrence, and Allen Doak. Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity: Fred Barboe, V. McQuary, W. P. Green, and George Adams.

Y. W. C. A.: Margaret Conner, Ruby Doak, Dorothy Winger, and Violet Hunter.

S. T. C. Girls Judge at Fall Festival

Three students from the College, who are majoring in home economics, went to Stanberry, to act as judges at Henry County's second annual fall festival which was held Friday, September 27. The girls who went to Stanberry were Gertrude Wray, Rove Puthuff, and Florence Wray.

Out of forty-two rural floats, ten were given places among the winners by the judges. The floats were scored according to originality, effectiveness with which their idea was carried out, beauty, and amount of work required in preparation.

It was very difficult to distinguish between floats for the first four or five places, but by close scoring, the following awards were made: First, Croswite; second, Buella; Daisy fourth, Island City; fifth, Alantus;

"M" Club Has First Meeting for Year

The "M" Club of the active College Bearcats is off with its program for a banner year. The first meeting was held at the gymnasium on Tuesday evening of this week. The motto of the organization is "Every Bearcat a Fighter" and, from the antics of the boys and the coaches from the very first day of the football camp through the last two games, it is much in evidence that the march "Forward" and the "Fight" is growing and growing every minute, until—well, we don't know just what will happen when the Bears come capering around on the home territory of the boys who will battle for the glory of the "Green and White"—but we are hoping and hoping—

Anyway the "Letter" boys are all organized with coaches Lefty and Iba and with an active pep squad. They intend to help all pep organizations get going, around the campus until there is something doing first, last, and all the time and between those times around here, until the "Fightin' Bearcats" clear the woods of all Bears, Dönkies and other varmints which happen to be, as yet, roaming the hills of Missouri, especially in the vicinity of the Alma Mater.

The officers for the year are: President, Carl King; vice-president, Wendell Culp; secretary, H. H. Fischer; treasurer, James Seeley.

Those present at the meeting were: King, Culp, Fischer, Seeley, Russell, Daniels, Westfall, Davison, Duse, J. Smith, C. Smith, Staleup, McKee, Mahood, Sillers, and the coaches.

Department of Music Plans for H. S. Orchestra

More Than 120 High School Students from Twenty-one High Schools Wish to Play With Big Orchestra.

Again this year the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association, in session at the State Teachers College, October 24 and 25, will have the opportunity of listening to an orchestra, the members of which are taken from organizations in high schools in the northwest district. Seventy select high school boys and girls will form the personnel.

For several weeks Mr. Gardner, director of the conservatory of music, has been busy corresponding with the music supervisors and superintendents in this district in regard to the orchestra, and he has had an excellent response. When the musicians, coming from twenty-one schools, assemble at the gymnasium for their first rehearsal at 9 o'clock Friday morning, October 25, each one will have his own music, know just which part he is to play, and the rehearsal will start off as though the members were in their own orchestras at home.

The program this year will be a revelation to those who did not get to hear the orchestra last year.

Mr. Hickernell, instructor of wind instruments, assisted by Miss Dvorak, teacher of stringed instruments, will conduct two strenuous rehearsals before the first concert Friday evening, and the second concert Saturday morning. It is surprising how much can be accomplished with the ensemble, and the audience will marvel at the effective contrasts in tempo and tone coloring.

"One of the greatest benefits to individual members of the orchestra is the opportunity they have of working under a strain to present a program in a short time," Mr. Gardner said. "Members from different schools, playing side by side, can get a better understanding of each others problems."

While in Maryville the musicians will be guests of the teachers association. They will be provided with lunch Friday noon, dinner Friday evening, lodging Friday night, and breakfast Saturday morning. They will also be guests at the football game Friday afternoon when the Bearcats clash with the St. Bonedicts of Atchison, Kansas, in S. T. C.'s big homecoming event.

Mr. Gardner and Mr. Hickernell expected to complete the selection this week of the seventy musicians from twenty-one schools maintaining orchestras of sixteen pieces or more. On the entry list there are one hundred and twenty-one instruments. Balance of the (Continued on Page 2)

Oxford Debate Work Began This Week

Debate is getting started in earnest this week. Squad meetings are being held each school night of the week except Friday. The meetings last from 7:00 p. m. until 8:00 p. m. Sixteen students reported for the first debate practice, at which an analysis of the question for the Oxford debate was begun. No meeting was held Monday night on account of Walkout.

In order to better manage the business of the debate group, a forensic council has been organized. The tentative personnel of the council is: Faculty director of forensics, Mr. O. C. Miller; assistant director of men's debate, Burl Zimmerman; assistant director of women's debate, Martha Herridge; student director of forensics, Wilbur Pettigrew; freshman assistant, Wilbur Heekin; manager of oration and extemporaneous speaking, Glenn Duncan; director of publicity, Clarence Worley.

A great deal of enthusiasm is being shown by the members of the squad. Though a creditable number have reported for debate this year, compared with the squad of former years, a survey is to be made to see if there are not more students who might be trying out for the team.

The forensic council holds its regular meeting each Tuesday evening at 5:00 o'clock until further arrangements are made.

College Papers Have Problems In Common

The New Organization is Progressing Under Leadership of its President, R. Wilson Brown.

Stephen G. LaMar, Director of Publicity at the College, went to Marshall, Missouri, Friday, October 4, to attend the annual session of the Missouri College Newspaper Association. Delegates to the meeting were guests of Missouri Valley College of Marshall. Plans and suggestions for managing and writing college papers were discussed.

The association, which is composed of junior and senior colleges in Missouri, has five aims. They are:

1. A closer contact between student publications.
2. A higher standard of college journalism.
3. Better co-operation in the handling of inter-college news.
4. A closer contact between Missouri editors and publishers, and college journalists.
5. Annual convention a part of Journalism Week with addresses by leading journalists of the nation.

The Missouri College Newspaper Association is an organization of Universities and Senior Colleges in the State of Missouri having a standard weekly, bi-weekly, or monthly publication.

The Association was organized in 1928 for the purpose of the promotion of Journalism among students and to raise the standards of college and university publications.

To raise this standard, the constitution of the Missouri College Newspaper Association provides that all member publications shall consist of at least four pages, four 15-inch columns to the page, every issue. There shall be an editorial in each issue, and each paper must exchange with all other member papers.

To stimulate interest in raising standards, an annual contest is held during the Journalism Week at the University of Missouri. Seven contests are open to all member papers and are as follows:

1. Special column, five dollars.
2. News article, five dollars.
3. Best newspaper, trophy.
4. Editorial, five dollars.
5. Feature story, five dollars.
6. Poem, five dollars.
7. Sport story, five dollars.

Judges are selected from prominent journalists who attend Journalism Week at Columbia and all judging takes place at the University of Missouri during this week. The annual convention of the Association is held during this week. The advisory board of the Association is composed of leading journalists of Missouri. Prof. Frank L. Martin, pro-

Bearcats Fight Bobcats to a Scoreless Tie

S. T. C.'s Scrapping Eleven Battle Their Way to Within Scoring Distance Twice During Game.

On a field of mud covered with straw, Peru kicked off to the Maryville Bearcats, starting the game last Friday at exactly fifteen minutes till five. John Smith caught the punt and returned it for about four yards. Then C. Smith tried through center twice, going thru on the second attempt for about ten yards.

The Bearcats were penalized for offside. C. Smith tried another line plunge, and then H. Fischer tried to find a hole in the Peru line. Both attempts were unsuccessful. Duse punted forty yards. Both sides continued to punt back and forth with Duse of Maryville having the advantage of the exchanges.

Both teams were penalized several times for offside, and for holding. No substitutions were made during the first quarter. One pass, attempted by Peru, was incomplete.

In the second quarter, Milner was substituted for Russell at halfback, Bruce for C. Smith at half, Hall for Sillers at guard, Westfall for Seeley at tackle, Hodgkinson for Duse, Staleup for Marr at end, and Barnes for Hodgkinson.

Three passes were completed by the Bearcats, Milner to Fischer, Milner to J. Smith, and Milner to Hodgkinson, the first two for thirty yards each, and the last for twelve yards. Two forward passes were incomplete.

These three passes brought the ball to the Bobcats' eight yard line. In the next three downs the Bearcats made about seven yards, but were unable to score on the last down, and Peru kicked out of danger. Peru attempted several passes which were incomplete.

For two downs in the second half, the Bearcat line was opened, and Peru made about five yards. Duse reached bounds for a pass from Milner which was called incomplete.

Just as it became almost too dark to see, the Bearcats started a march down the field. Duse carried the ball around right end for fifteen yards, and then around left end for ten yards. On the next down, however, he was caught behind the line of scrimmage for a loss, and the game was over.

H. Fischer was again outstanding for his ability to catch and return punts, and for his line plunging. Milner and Duse did outstanding work as did every man who played.

Coach R. W. Briggs of Springfield scouted the game, Friday, Peru's Coach Lon Graf, was at the game.

From dope received on other team and games, the Bearcats seem to have a good chance to hold their own in conference this year.

Officials were Pat Mason, Rockwell coach, referee; John Wolfe, K. U. referee; J. T. Blair, Cumberland U. linesman.

Summary: Yards from scrimmage: Maryville 55, Peru 41; yards forward passes, Maryville: 65, Peru: 16 for 579 yards; first downs, Maryville: 70, Peru: 5; penalties, Maryville: 70 yards, Peru: 6 for 35 yards; forward passes, Maryville 10, one intercepted; five incomplete, four for 65 yards, 9, eight incomplete, one for 5 yards.

COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will respect and obey the College laws and do our best to make a like respect and reverence for others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

LET'S HAVE A BIG HOMECOMING!
S. G. L.

In an examination on current events given to a class of pre-journalism students, the following statements were made:

"Lloyd George is king of England."
"The Latin Quarter is the newspaper name for Nicaragua and other Central American countries."
"Upton Sinclair was put in jail for an oil scandal."
"Harry Thaw is editor of the Review of Reviews."

"Palestine is a city in Egypt, noted for its Bible references."

"Campus indifference to current news," the teacher of the journalism class said, "was indicated in the results of a questionnaire sent out by the journalism class for one issue of the 'Silver and Gold,' a student publication, to members of the faculty. The instructor went on to say that the principal cause of the surprising ignorance of students is due to the fact that they do not read."

"The ignorance of current happenings was not only in this class but more or less in every college throughout the country where such tests have been given."

It certainly seems that persons who have manifested their intentions of becoming good citizens to the extent of going to college, should take enough interest in the world of which they are citizens to find out what things are all about.

True, students have a great deal to do to keep up with class and extra-curricular activities, but, is it not advocated that great things can be done with fifteen minutes a day.—C. W.

In a letter to the Young People's Superintendent of Religious Education of Nodaway County, Mr. Perron Troxell, pays the young people of Nodaway County a worthwhile compliment. Mr. Troxell, who is Director of Young People's work for the state of Missouri, says as follows:

"Congratulations! You are working one of the best county groups in the state. With the exception of one, had more folks in our International year this year than any other county. They have been carrying on despite the fact that the general Council has been active for a few years. I have the highest respect for them."

Mr. Cooper's Trip.
Bert Cooper, Director of Extension at the College, left Wednesday, October 9, for Bassett, Nebraska, where he was to speak before the Rock County Teachers Institute on Thursday. Mr. Cooper was scheduled to make two trips during the day of the meeting on the subject, "Vitalized Agriculture." The title of the afternoon session is "Live Projects for Rural Areas," and of the night lecture, "City in Education."

Sigma Tau Fraternity.
The group went to Mount City with a view to the week-end.

Wilton, former student of the college, is attending school at University this fall.

More and Nolan Bruce went to St. Joseph City.

Correction.

By mistake two names were left off the list of names of faculty members who were present at the faculty dinner for the college presidents, which was held at the Country Club on Thursday evening, September 26. Miss Carrie Hopkins, instructor in English and Fine Art, and Miss Hettie M. Anthony, head of the Home Economics department of the College, were also at the dinner.

Mr. Cook to Rochester.

Mr. Cook, instructor in history, left Monday, October 7, for Rochester, Minn., where Mrs. Cook has been receiving treatment. Mrs. Cook was able to accompany him home.

Miss Anthony said that she would perhaps have the loyal support of former students of the College. She mentioned Mrs. Viola Anderson, who is well known for her alumni activities, and Mrs. Ralph Marcell of Maryville.

Kirksville Loses to Rolla.

Kirksville Teachers went down to defeat before a last minute rally staged by the Rolla Miners at Kirksville recently. The score was 13 to 12.

A series of slashing-line plunges by Hessler, Rolla fullback, near the end of the game, saved the day.

Rolla end, to go over for a touchdown on a pass from Hessler. Hessler scored the winning point after the touchdown with a run around the end.

Hessler was easily the outstanding player in the game.

Northwest Missouri State Teachers' college will meet the Miners at Rolla, in November, and Kirksville here for the final game of the season.

Y. W. C. A. Moves On.

Y. W. C. A. regular weekly meeting was opened Tuesday afternoon in Social Hall by the group of fifty-two members singing negro spirituals, under the leadership of Evelyn Evans.

Evelyn Evans then announced the division of the membership into two divisions for a membership drive of which she is the leader of one side, and Grace Gallatin of the other. This announcement was followed by pep songs and the meeting closed by singing "Follow the Glean."

School Items

Darlington School Notes.

The primary department was placed on the attendance Honor Roll this week. The attendance in this department was perfect. We usually think that the beginners learn by the example placed by the older students, but in this instance the situation was reversed. This is a good showing and we hope to be able to place other departments on the honor roll. Miss Ruth McConkey teaches this department.

Mr. Barham of St. Joseph, Mo., representative for the Children's Home Society of Missouri, talked to the high school assembly on the subject "Being on the Winning Side." We feel that Mr. Barham is working for a good cause and we were glad to have him with us.

The Sophomore class gave a Chicken Supper last Tuesday evening. The faculty and a number of friends to members of the class were invited. All who attended seemed to have a pleasant evening and the sophomore girls received many compliments on the quality of their cooking.

DeKalb County Teachers Association.

The DeKalb County Teachers Association is to have their first Annual Banquet and Mixer at Marysville, Friday Evening, October 18, at 7:00 p. m. The Association has been organized for three years in DeKalb County and has put on the Annual Spelling contest for rural and town schools, and also the County Track and Field Meet. This year in addition to these events the Association plans to conduct a series of Sectional Meetings in various parts of the county for the educational, inspirational, and social benefit of the teachers and school interested public of the region around the places chosen for the meeting.

A banquet which is to be held in Marysville, October 18, is the first regular meeting of the year. Among other things planned for in this meeting is an address by Superintendent F. H. Barbee of the St. Joseph public schools, on the subject, "The Professional Growth of the School Teacher." The Marysville school board will be guests of honor and the Stewartsville High School orchestra will provide the music.

The program of meetings for the year is: GENERAL MEETING—Marysville, October 18; SECTIONAL MEETINGS: Clarksdale, Dec. 6; Weatherby, Jan. 10; Fairport, Jan. 31; Osborn, March 7. SPELLING FINALS: Marysville, Feb. 15. TRACK AND LITERARY MEET: Marysville, April 18-19.

The officers of the DeKalb County Teachers Association are: President, Lewis A. Wickens, vice-president, Mary Dyer; secretary-treasurer, Eivor Denay; county superintendent, John Edie. The chairman of the spelling contest committee is W. S. Gillman; of the track and literary meet committee is Orton Baker; and of the program committee is Lewis A. Wickens.

Norborne School Notes.

The football schedule for the Norborne High School team is: Oct. 10—Wentworth Reserves, here. Oct. 18—Wentworth Reserves, there. Oct. 25—Lone Jack, there. Nov. 1—Orick, here. Nov. 8—Carrollton, there. Nov. 22—Orick, there.

The coach, Mark Holcomb, is well pleased with the work and spirit of the squad, and prospects seem favorable for a peppy, though light, team. There are twenty-four out for regular practice. The physical education program is functioning very satisfactorily.

The Norborne High School News, monthly paper of the school, is published by an able and experienced staff of ten students.

On October 9 and 10, Norborne has its Farm and Farmyard Fair. Prize exhibits are being prepared by the Vocational Agriculture and Vocational Home Economics Departments, as well as by the grade school and neighboring rural schools.

Education in King City High School.

The big hand of the town clock gave a lurch forward to register 4:05. On a bench in front of the First Trust Company sat two old fellows whose graying heads and slightly stooped shoulders catalogued them as members of that school day period when little fellows used to trudge, barefooted, on frosty mornings, along the same bordered and often wooded country roads, to the "deestric school" where they received their 'larnin' in readin' ritin' 'n' rithmetic.

Up the street came the majority of King City's school population—some running, some walking, some on bicycles, and some in cars.

"The kids these' days sure have it easy. Look at that bunch in the car. Say, when I was a little shaver, we used to walk two or three miles to school. Why—"

A check-up in the junior and senior high schools would indicate that to get an education even in these days some of the youngsters go "quite a ways," too.

There are more than ninety pupils who travel more than a mile to attend school. These ninety pupils travel daily more than a thousand miles of travel to get a high school education.

And some of them "hoof it" even in these days. There's Harold Lindley who walks five miles. Kathryn Hutcher and Charles Powers each walk two miles to school. Several of the pupils walk a mile and a half. There are fifteen non-resident students who walk.

The bicycle brigade numbers fifteen. Harold Preston peddles the farthest each day—four miles. Reginald Nees and Vernon Bonham each come more than three miles.

D. O. Leith's pony parade of the Bluegrass Festival has nothing on the high school students. Twenty-two of them swing into the saddle each morning and rely on the four-footed steed for an education. Louise Boone rides eight miles; Earl Hobbs, seven; Earl Jackson and Earl Snapp tie at six and one-half miles.

The buggies, too, play their part by transporting eleven youngsters. Junior and Frances Jameson come the greatest distance with a record of five and one-fourth miles. Francis Meadows comes five miles.

And they come from most every direction—just to attend King City high school. John Bashor puts fourteen miles between him and home each day to sit in the high school class rooms. Neola and Benrice Boley live twelve miles from town; Iona and Gilbert Jestus eleven and one-half miles, Mary Burke ten miles.

Twenty-seven pupils ride to school in their own cars. Twelve come in cars with other pupils.

Some of the pupils travel the Burlington route and get to school each morning from Ford City on the "Toonerville Trolley." Jack Poe and Alice Lawson use this method. One pupil rides the bus.

Eleven students who live in the country are rooming in town. Of this number four do light housekeeping, and seven "board and room."

An even hundred do not take their noon meal at home. Sixty-eight bring their lunch from home. Thirty-two eat downtown.

And dad and mother don't dish out all of the spending money to pupils, either. One little fellow in the grades saved $30 this summer. Many of the boys around town mow yards, rake leaves, do janitor work, or sell papers.

The vocational ag boys each year make several hundred dollars on their projects. Many of the girls who live in the country raise chickens or feed calves or other livestock to fatten their bank account.

It is a scramble each fall to get a barn in which to "park" ponies close to school. Owners of barns reap benefits by renting these barns.

The lunch of former days, which consisted mostly of left-over biscuits, made into cold pork sandwiches, and an apple or two, is rapidly giving way to the warm lunch. The students who buy lunches in town spend on an average, about 25 cents. Some take plate lunches; some sandwiches and pie. It won't be long now until chili will be one of the main dishes on the high school pupil's lunch menu.

The youngsters get a lot of kick out of attending high school—but when it is 16 below zero and snow and ice covers the roads—when the mud gets so deep that even the horses nearly sink out of sight—or the thermometer registers about 100—well, maybe the youngsters these days do have it easy going to school.

College Instructor Gives Monograph

Mr. Orville C. Miller, head of the Public Speaking Department of the College, has given to the College Library a monograph entitled, "Sir Henry Irving, the Public Speaker." This article appeared as the major article in the June number of the Journal of Expression magazine which is designated "The Irving Number."

The article, a piece of research, was prepared by Mr. Miller, and was published by the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, as Bulletin No. 138, Junior Series. Quoting, in part, from the magazine:

"The real purpose of this article has not been to prove Sir Henry Irving, the great actor, to be a remarkable genius as an orator. The aim has been, however, to indicate that he deserves recognition as a public speaker as well as fame as a great actor. Evidence has been presented to reveal (1) that Irving's personality, character, and background of training in, and for speech were such as to give promise of success for him as a public speaker, (2) that his speeches were numerous, varied in their circumstances, and prompted by an impelling motive, (3) that his rhetorical style compares favorably with the best orators of his time, and (4) that his style of delivery and the manner of the reception of his many speeches and lectures clinch for him his right to a place among public speakers. Irving was first and always the actor, but he was also a public speaker of no mean ability and power."

Genevieve Bucher and Betty Price spent the week-end with their parents at Oregon.

Miss Majorie Barton, member of the Conservatory of Music, played the First Movement of Concerto Little, before Mr. Holdridge's class in technique at 6:00 Thursday, October 10, at the Conservatory.

Juanita Marsh visited at her home in Chillicothe over the week-end.

Mr. O. E. Cook Talks to Sociology Class

"There is no such thing as a natural born criminal, liar, or thief," declared Mr. O. E. Cook, in a talk before the College classes in Social Problems, taught by O. Myking Mohus.

Mr. Cook, who gave his talk at the College October 1, is superintendent of the Idaho State Industrial School at St. Anthony. He is a brother of Mr. T. H. Cook, member of the College faculty.

"Tendencies to do wrong come thru social process," Mr. Cook said. "It is the home and home conditions that are largely responsible for many of the problems today. Eighty-five percent of the cases come from broken homes." Mr. Cook stated that the open dance hall is the greatest menace to the American society of today.

Mr. Cook sought to impress the students with the fact that the Boy Scouts, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., and churches do not carry their organization influences where most needed. There is only one boy in his school, Mr. Cook brought out, who belongs to the Boy Scouts. Members of Boy Scout troupes do not become delinquents because the boys who need to be Scouts do not get to be, the speaker added.

In the institution of which Mr. Cook spoke, the merit system of discipline is used. Each boy or girl must have 20,000 merits to his or her credit before being discharged. By good conduct it is possible to earn thirty merits a day, Mr. Cook explained. At the end of the month, a bonus of one hundred merits is given for good behavior, and good behavior for ninety days is rewarded by a gift of five hundred merits. Punishment is administered through the custom of deducting honor points from the pupil's total.

The boys and girls attend school one-half day and work the remaining half day. Some of the work includes masonry, plumbing, electrical work, tailoring, cooking, shoe making, and dairying.

There are 236 boys and 76 girls in the school between the ages of eight and eighteen, Mr. Cook stated. They are sentenced until they are twenty-one years of age and then are automatically discharged. Mr. Cook expressed the belief that the boys and girls who are discharged. Mr. Cook expressed the belief looked down upon, but should be helped to become useful citizens.

EGLEY A. C. VICTORIOUS

Whether or not basketball determines the relative merits of a boarding house food is yet to be decided, but after Tuesday night's scramble the Egley A. C.'s left little doubt regarding their supremacy over the eaters from Giles in that pastime. The challengers, those Egleyites, soundly whipped the "challengers" to the tune of a 28 to 6 score.

In the first quarter scores were scarce, Finley putting Egley into the lead 2 to 0 with a lone field tally. The later divisions of play found more passing and greater scoring, with McCracken, last year's high school All-American, getting loose for counters from all angles. The best was not to be heard.

The Egley A. C. flag still hangs and its defenders are ready to weather any forthcoming storm.

It took all that three men, "Twister" Smith, Staleup, and Curley McKee, could put forth to referee. The first two named took to the showers before the close of the game.

Fruit Production Class Makes Trip

Mr. Schowengerdt took his class in Fruit Production to St. Joseph on a field trip, Thursday, October 3rd. While there, the class visited the Kennmoor and Connett Estate Orchards, about ten miles south of St. Joseph.

The methods of picking, packing and handling of fruits in harvest time were studied by the class. Two different methods of handling the fruit were observed. At the Kennmoor Orchard, the central packing shed type is used. At the Connett Estate, the orchardists take the packing bench with the packing crew so that no packing shed is needed. The fact that two distinct methods of harvesting the crop were used was of interest to the class.

The girls who went on the trip are reported to have been made very happy when they were permitted to eat all the apples they wanted.

Those making the trip were: George Hepburn, Walter Wilson, Frances Hackett, Maxine Massey, Beulah Skend, Helen Coken, Opal Fern Wallace, Emerald Riley, and Isabel Hamlin. Cars were furnished by George Hepburn and Mr. Schowengerdt.

Honesty Is Subject at Endeavor Meeting

Lorinne Harris led the College Christian Endeavor Society at the Christian Church Sunday evening, October 6. The topic was "How Honest Shall We Be?"

It was pointed out that the greatest need today is intellectual honesty. Men and women are wanted who will speak out what they believe to be true rather than what the mob wants to hear. It was shown that twelve years ago, Ramsey MacDonald was hissed and called a traitor because he dared to tell the truth about the World War, while to-

The Stroller

By I. I. I.

Well, they had the Walkout Monday just as the Stroller thought all along they would. The Strolling one heard only one complaint against the whole day's activities. One freshman said he didn't see why all the upperclassmen didn't wear suspenders on Walkout Day. It must have been that same freshman, who was complaining at the football game Friday. In fact, the Stroller was puzzled over the same thing. They must have changed these football rules some this year, for at the end of the third quarter, just as the freshman complained, the referee picked up that ball and packed it from one twenty yard line to the other. Just then the freshman said to the Stroller, "What they doing, penalizing Maryville clear across the field?" The Stroller didn't have anything to say, so he guesses he will get him a rule book and read up a little before he goes to the next game. It seems to the Stroller that a lot of people have been complaining this last week. He just heard one student say that he was disappointed with the whole town of Maryville. People were at the show Sunday night, he said, who should have been in church, for they were so old and bald-headed they were about ready to die and he thought that they should be preparing for the event. This has been a bad week for those who saved their money for a rainy day. The Stroller is not the only one who strolls on the second floor. One of the instructors reports that about 11:00 o'clock Monday evening when he was busily engaged at his desk, and all was quiet in the building, footsteps were heard near the office door. An investigation started a huge rat which, with hastening footsteps, betook himself across the office and managed to get himself behind one of the cases. A hasty search with rods, window poles, and various articles with intent to kill, failed to produce the rat. Evidently he had "walked out." One of the senior boys said, "Say, by George, my English teacher sure did me a dirty trick today." The Stroller sympathized and said "How?" The answer was, "Boy! She assigned me a whole mess of work to do." One of the office girls, almost in tears, said, "Say, that guy just now carried off my typewriter—did it just like the old guy who took my pet goose. Mother sold the geese, and he carried them off by the neck." The Stroller has heard rumblings of parties and teas to be given by the College in honor of the Oxford, England, boys who are coming to debate us on tariff and such. Now the Stroller just hopes that proper decorum will be maintained and that, in the interest of world peace, no one will mention the Boston Tea Party.

Well, they've even sent for President Lamkin to come down to New York and be surveyed. That Survey Commission seems to be dead set on missing no one. The Stroller has noticed a big megaphone all decked out in green and white and giving out instruction all by its lonesome. "Geo whiz!" it was moaning, as the Stroller approached, "won't I catch it at that pep meetin' next Thursday night at 7:30. ALL STUDENTS not ready for the 'Spirit' better be present," came in threatening tones from that megaphone. Well the Stroller just tip-toed right on by that horn, no foolin'. Whenever spirits get to monkeyin' around, 'tain't no place for him and he's just goin' to keep in close and see what happens next Thursday. Come to think about it, 7:30 is just about the right time for a "Spirit" to catch the chillun at S. T. C., and when once that "Spirit" gets goin' 'round heah, tain't goin' to be no safe place for them Bears from Springfield either, he's thinkin'.

Interesting Answers Are Given in Test

Following are some of the answers received by Miss Keith of the College Training School to questions in a diagnostic test in physiology:

Nerves are things that make your brain work it carries things to different parts of your body and makes you smart.

Skeleton is a lot of bones together. Skeleton—it is just the bones of the body not the skin and insides.

A skeleton is a body without meat. Joints is where his hand or large bends.

A bone is in your hand. Bone, to make you so you can stand up.

Nervous system is in your brain and if you would reach out and shake hands with someone the nerves would come down the arm and then go back.

Heart keeps beating to make blood. Nervous system is when you are scared.

The joints is bones coming together and where you bend at.

Energy is running like a machine.

A heart is a thing that beats in your chest.

College Instructor Has Novel Necklace

Not the least of the many interesting things to be found in Florence, Italy, are the products of the silversmiths. And of these silversmiths, Coppini is, perhaps, the most noted. His work is all handmade. He is the Tiffany of Italy.

It was of Coppini that Miss Hettie Anthony, head of the Department of Home Economics, secured a necklace of very unusual design. The chain is of sterling silver with stones of lapis lazuli. The inspiration for the hand-wrought silver designs in this quaint piece of jewelry comes from the decorations and sculpturing on the Italian cathedrals and art galleries. Each section of the chain has a different design. Close examination will show that a great deal of history has been hammered into the designs that form the sections of the neck-piece. Miniature reproductions of the keys of Florence, Michael Angelo's angel, Luca Della Robbia's Bambino, Angelo's death mask, a fleur de lis, and the lion on the coat of arms of the Medici family.

In an effort to bring the kingdoms of France and Italy closer together, a powerful member of the Italian house of Medici, combined the coat of arms of the two countries. So in the chain which Miss Anthony has, the Italian designs are joined by representations of the fleur de lis of France and the National flower of Italy.

The stones or beads in the chain are made of Russian lapis, a semi-precious stone of azure blue. As a companion piece to the necklace, Miss Anthony also has a silver ring with a lapis stone in a setting of olive leaves. Both the pieces of jewelry were obtained when she was in Europe during the last summer.

The fact that Nodaway county's chief industry is education is evident if we consider an announcement from the county superintendent's office, to the effect that there are 299 persons employed in teaching in the public schools of the county. This number, of course, does not include the fifty or more instructors who teach in the College.

This makes a combined total of at least three hundred fifty persons actively engaged in education in Nodaway county, not to mention the hundreds of employees connected with the business of keeping the schools going, and the thousands of children who are attending the schools. The total number compares favorably with the number of people in the county connected with any other single industry.

Mr. William Holderidge, of the Conservatory of Music, spent last Saturday in Kansas City. While there he attended the show, "The Red Robe."

TO THE TEACHERS OF NORTHWEST MISSOURI:

Since I failed to see some of you during the August Meetings, because of an automobile accident, I feel that I must write wishing you the best of luck as you are starting your year's work. I know that every teacher is interested in the work at hand. I hope each one of you is teaching because you want to teach and because you want to serve and that you really believe your work is as important as any work. Someone has said, "Teaching is lighting a lamp and not filling a bucket," and I think he is right. Are you lighting the lamp of interest? Are you kindling the fires of desire to achieve? Are you lighting the lamp in such a way that it will glow and send out its light after the boy or girl has left you and gone to other schools?

This leads me to say that one very valuable source of inspiration for this stupendous task is your "School and Community" and the contact you will make with other teachers and friends at the district meeting in Maryville, October 24 and 25. I find that 98.7% of Northwest Missouri teachers were enrolled last year in the Missouri State Teachers Association, the teacher's own organization. I hope this year will find every teacher enrolled before October 24. Let's make it 100% and 'set the pace' for the other sections. Just think, only thirty-six teachers in this section failed to enroll last year. I am sure every one who has not already enrolled will do so at once so we may be first to reach the 100% mark. Some counties are already 100%.

Then, wouldn't it be fine for all of the teachers of Northwest Missouri to meet in Maryville for the district meeting? What a happy time we shall have seeing and shaking hands with our friends of college days and showing our loyalty to our profession. The program will be full of help as we have been able to secure very excellent talent.

Hurry and get your enrollment in and then begin planning on meeting us in Maryville, October 24 and 25.
